PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, American newspapers are leaders in national, state and community enlightenment; and

WHEREAS, newspapers in our country do more than present an accounting of the daily happenings to the public, but they are in many ways a symbol of freedom which is so precious in this day and age of dictatorships and autocracies; and

WHEREAS, the freedom of the press is essential to the democracy in which we live; and

WHEREAS, South Dakota newspapers almost without exception have established a reputation for truth and fairness to all;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, SIGURD ANDERSON, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim the week of October 1-8, 1952 as in South Dakota, and urge that all citizens of the state by appropriate action and thought to observe this week and pay proper tribute to the newspapers of South Dakota. Let us ever remember the fact that freedom of the press is essential to all personal freedom.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota to be affixed this 27th day of September, 1952.
